The Office of Administrative Hearings (OAH) adjudicates contested workers’ compensation and drivers’ license cases arising in the state’s 23 counties. The OAH is also statutorily required to hear the Department of Family Services’ central registry child abuse and neglect cases. Beginning July 1, 2012, teacher disciplinary/termination cases will be heard by the OAH for the state’s 48 school districts. The OAH conducts state employee disciplinary and termination hearings and is authorized to provide independent hearing services to any other state agency. The Office of Administrative Hearings was created in 1987, reorganized in 1992 and is an independent state agency governed by W.S. 9-2-2201.

The Division of Victim Services (DVS) mission statement is to improve the treatment of all victims of crime by providing them with the assistance and services essential to their restoration. The DVS administers programs dedicated to serving crime victims. The DVS assists victims of crime, provide awareness, education and training to the general community, and support legislative, judicial and social reforms beneficial to crime victims. The DVS believes the criminal justice system and allied agencies must ultimately be measured by their treatment of victims, for that goal will surely best serve society. The DVS administers the Wyoming Crime Victim Compensation Program (CVCP) that provides financial assistance to hundreds of victims each year that have suffered personal injury as a result of a criminal act and administers federal Victim of Crime Act (VOCA) funds, Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) funds, Family Violence Preventions Act (FVPSA) funds, as well as state general funds to service providers, either by formula or non-formula distribution. These funds support victim/witness programs, family violence shelter service programs and specialized crime victim assistance programs in every county in Wyoming.

The Wyoming Board of Certified Public Accountants regulates CPAs and CPA firms to protect the public. The Board’s mission is to ensure that consumers of accounting services are protected by requiring CPAs and CPA firms to meet the highest levels of professional competence. Members of the public who feel it is necessary may file a complaint against a CPA and/or a CPA firm which the Board would investigate. The Board has five members appointed by the Governor for three-year terms; no political split or Senate confirmation is required. Four board members shall be certified public accountants and one shall be a member of the general public (W.S. 33-3-101 through W.S. 33-3-201). The Wyoming Board of Certified Public Accountants operates in conjunction with the Department of Administration and Information.

Family Assistance resides within the Assistance Division and is responsible for determining eligibility for food assistance (Supplemental Nutritional Assistance Program or SNAP), connecting people with dependent children to job opportunities through a program called Personal Opportunities With Employment Responsibilities (POWER), and helping needy families achieve self-sufficiency through a program called Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF). Family Assistance also connects people with healthcare benefits such as Kid Care/CHIP and WIC (a nutrition program for young children, pregnant and breast feeding women), programs administered through the Wyoming Department of Health. The Assistance Division administers the Child Care Development Fund (CCDF) to help low-income families pay for the child care, and provides programs to improve the quality of and access to child care. Child Support is within the Assistance Division as well and uses contract and county field offices along with state personnel to find parents, establish paternity, establish child support and medical support orders, enforce child support and medical support orders, and modify existing orders. Child Support also receives and disburses child support payments and serves any person who fills out an application and pays a $25 application fee; the services are not based on income. Plus, Child Support receives case referrals when people apply for public assistance or parents have a child in the custody of DFS. For a complete listing of the local child support enforcement offices, go to our website or call the office directly. In addition, the State Disbursement Unit (SDU) and the distribution of child support payments are housed within Child Support. The Home Support Unit, also within the Assistance Division, aids with home heating (Low Income Energy Assistance Program or LIEAP) and Weatherization services.

Social Services resides within the Services Division and is responsible for the court ordered supervision of adjudicated delinquents and children in need of supervision (CHINS). Juvenile probation officers monitor youth in crisis or in need of services. Juveniles Services staff oversee the Wyoming Boys' School and Wyoming Girls' School. In addition, the Division oversees the central registry, a database of substantiated abuse and neglect perpetrators, and the creation of community juvenile service boards. Social Services' primary goal is to ensure children and vulnerable adults are safe. The Division is required by law to investigate allegations of abuse and neglect and then provide services to those who have been abused and neglected. Services can include foster care, in-home services and, if needed, residential treatment centers. Those services address issues stemming from emotional and physiological trauma. For vulnerable adults, including elders and those who have developmental delays, the Social Service workers connect those adults, caregivers and families with services and referrals within the community to help create or maintain a safe living environment. To report neglect or abuse, call your local field office, the contact for which is listed under Family Services, Offices in Communities. Clinical Services also resides within the Services Division and is charged with ensuring the proper provision of clinical, medical, pharmacological, therapeutic, and psychosexual services to children and adults in DFS custody. It houses the Substitute Care Licensing Unit as well which enforces the substitute care rules for all congregate care facilities in the state while also providing training and guidance of the facilities and entities that have licenses. In addition, Clinical Services works to ensure the safety of children in out-of-home care facilities.

The Control Area Advisory Boards of Groundwater advise and assist the State Engineer and Board of Control in formulating policies and recommendations on applications and petitions concerning groundwater development in a Control Area. A Control Area serves the function of a groundwater management district. Each Control Area Advisory Board comprises five individuals who own land within the Control Area. Board members are elected to four-year terms by land owners within the Control Area. Members may serve two consecutive terms and no political split is required. The Control Area Advisory Boards operate in conjunction with the State Engineer’s Office (W.S. 41-3-912 through W.S. 41-3-915).

Each of the state's four water divisions is represented by a Division Advisory Committee on Groundwater. Each Committee comprises three persons, appointed by the Governor, who represent the landowners and water users of their respective water division, the geographical areas of that division, and the public interest. Committee members serve a six-year term and no political split is required. The duties of each Committee are to assist and advise the State Engineer and Board of Control regarding policies that affect groundwater, provide that information to groundwater users within their Division, and arrive at solutions to groundwater problems as they arise within their respective water Division. The Committees also provide advice and assistance to the Control Area Advisory Boards, and call and supervise the election of the members of the Control Area Advisory Boards. The Committees operate in conjunction with the State Engineer's Office (W.S. 41-3-908).

The responsibilities of the Community Health Section are to coordinate services, education and health promotion activities to residents of Wyoming that are community-based and family-centered, and take into consideration cultural competency. The primary customers of the Section include private physician offices, county public health nursing offices and residents in need of health education or direct medical services. The statutory citations relevant to the Section are W.S. 9-2-101, W.S. 9-2-2005, W.S. 42-4-117, W.S. 35-4-101, W.S. 21-4-309, W.S. 14-4-116, W.S. 35-4-401 through W.S. 35-4-403, Section 17 of the federally enacted Child Nutrition Act of 1996, as amended, W.S. 35-1-240, W.S. 35-1-305, W.S. 35-1-306, W.S. 35-4-139 and W.S. 35-27-101 through W.S. 35-27-104. The Community Health Section promotes and encourages healthy behaviors for all residents to protect against disease and potential injury. Section programs collaborate with local health care providers and health departments, as well as various state and national government agencies to develop and maintain the tools needed for communities and individuals in Wyoming to protect their health. The Community Health Section provides statistical data, diagnostic, and treatment services in selected areas, screening and education activities. The Community Health Section works with local prevention providers and statewide organizations to build state and local capacity to addresses policies, practices, and processes that affect substance use, and utilizes data to evaluate the effectiveness of these efforts. The Wyoming Honor Farm is a minimum security facility for adult male offenders with a mission that provides educational, vocational, treatment and a variety of agricultural work programs. The Honor Farm has four full-time inmate forestry crews who fight wild fires in Wyoming and also provide community service work for governmental agencies and the local community. Another well-known program at the Honor Farm is the Wild Horse Program, operated in partnership with the Federal Bureau of Land Management, in which wild horses are gentled and then put up for adoption at scheduled times. The Honor Farm, originally called the Penitentiary Farm, was acquired by the Wyoming Legislature in 1931.

Created through W.S. 35-12-104, the Industrial Siting Council reviews the socio-economic and environmental impacts of industrial facilities before making a decision on the issuance of a permit for construction. Typical permit holders are power plants, refineries, windfarms, and mines. Parties to a permit typically include the towns, cities, and counties in the area of the project. Emphasis is placed upon socio-economic impacts. The Industrial Siting Division of the Department of Environmental Quality administers the Wyoming Industrial Development Information and Siting Act under Chapters 1 and 2, Rules and Regulations of the Industrial Siting Council.

The State Advisory Council on Juvenile Justice (SACJJ) is the statewide resource for the Governor, Legislature, and communities in the fields of juvenile justice, youth services, and delinquency prevention. The State Advisory Council on Juvenile Justice assists in reviewing, recommending existing and new, applicable research and outcome-based juvenile accountability programs and strategies ranging from prevention and intervention to long-term detention or treatment programs for youth. In addition, the SACJJ supports and facilitates the allocation and use of Juvenile Accountability Block Grant (JABG) and other state/federal monies to assist communities in providing a range of programs and services preventing and reducing juvenile delinquency. The SACJJ does this in partnership with families, schools, communities, law enforcement and other agencies and is committed to collaborating with other organizations to create a Juvenile Information System to collect, produce and analyze data to better evaluate existing strategies and services. The SACJJ is committed to a balanced approach increasing public safety, providing both agency and offender accountability, while affording youth opportunities to develop as responsible citizen. The SACJJ operates in conjunction with the Department of Family Services.

The Wyoming Medium Correctional Institution (WMCI) is a medium security men's facility. It serves as the primary intake and assessment center for male inmates not sentenced to death. WMCI has been designed to serve those inmates with the high needs of protective custody, medical, mental, health, dental, substance abuse, life skills, cognitive/behavioral, and/or sex offender treatment services. It will also focus on education and vocational skills so that inmates can have a skill to make a livable wage when they reenter society. In addition, it houses the Department's initial reception and assessment process for all male offenders within the adult correctional system. The facility opened in January 2010 with a capacity of 720 beds.

Located 70 miles from Yellowstone National Park, Northwest College is a two-year, residential college offering transfer and technical programs of study that blend traditional arts and sciences with emerging technologies. Opening in 1946, Northwest College is the second oldest of Wyoming's seven community colleges. Its governing body is composed of a seven-person Board of Trustees whose members are elected in Park County. Today, more than 2,000 full-time and part-time students study on a modern campus with nearly 60 buildings on 124 acres in Powell, at two outreach centers, and through the Internet and interactive television. A stimulating residential campus and special learning opportunities such as field studies abroad and workforce training provide rich and varied learning activities. The college boasts more than 20,000 alumni, defined by the NWC Alumni Association as completing at least one semester as a full-time student. Northwest College is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (www.ncacihe.org).

The Board of Pharmacy is charged with the responsibility of protecting the health and welfare of residents of Wyoming with regard to pharmaceutical services. The Board regulates the practice of pharmacy, which includes the licensing and disciplining of pharmacists, pharmacy technicians, non-resident and resident pharmacies, and manufacturers/distributors of prescription drugs and controlled substances. The Board registers practitioners who prescribe or dispense controlled substances in Wyoming. The Board has authority to promulgate rules and regulations under the Wyoming Pharmacy Act as well as the Wyoming Controlled Substance Act. The Board operates the Prescription Drug Monitoring Program (PDMP). The PDMP electronically collects controlled substance prescriptions (Schedules II-IV) dispensed to residents in Wyoming by a pharmacy licensed by the Board. The Board of Pharmacy was created in 1888 and is an independent state agency governed by W.S. 33-24-101 through 301.

In 1996, the State Legislature enacted a law allowing certain state government agencies to collect voluntary donations on recreational licenses and registrations (hunting, fishing, snowmobiles, boats, etc.). Funds collected are distributed to counties as reimbursement for operational costs incurred performing search and rescue missions. The Wyoming Office of Homeland Security serves as the account manager and operates using guidance from W.S. 19, Chapter 13, Article 3, and the Wyoming Search and Rescue (SAR) Council. Council members are appointed by the Governor and are represented by law enforcement, a county commissioner, search and rescue volunteers, and the public at large. By statute, the Wyoming Office of Homeland Security Director serves as Executive Secretary to the Council. The Council meets at least twice annually.

The State Trail Advisory Council serves as a representative voice for the appropriate and diverse use of Wyoming's trail resources (W.S. 36-4-108). Their primary duties include advising the Department of State Parks and Cultural Resources regarding priorities for managing the snowmobile trails fund and the off-road recreational vehicle (ORV) fund. They also advise regarding application guidelines and distributions of grant funds from the federal Recreation Trails Program (RTP) grant program. The Council evenly represents motorized and non-motorized trail users. Additionally, the ten positions represent specific trail use activities such as snowmobiling, all terrain vehicles (ATV's), off-highway motorcycles, equestrians, hiking, bicycling, cross-country skiing or multiple uses. Therefore, members are very much in-touch with the constituents they represent and are able to provide extremely valuable information both to the operation of the Council, as well as to the planning process. The Council operates in conjunction with the Department of State Parks and Cultural Resources (W.S. 36-4-108).

Seven Transportation Commissioners are appointed by the Governor with approval of the Senate. Each Commissioner serves a six-year term. Each county within a district is represented, in turn, by successive appointments. State law requires the minority party be represented on the Commission. The Transportation Commission of Wyoming governs activities of the Department of Transportation (W.S. 24-2-201). The Commission operates in conjunction with the Department of Transportation.

Construction and maintenance of the state's highway system are the primary responsibilities for the Wyoming Department of Transportation (WYDOT). That includes enforcement of traffic laws, collecting highway user tax revenues, administration of driver licensing, commercial vehicle regulation and motor vehicle registration and titling. Functions assigned to the Aeronautics Commission are a part of the WYDOT program. The Transportation Commission provides candidates for gubernatorial consideration, and the Director is appointed by the Governor with Senate approval.

The Wyoming Wildlife and Natural Resource Trust (WWNRT) was created in 2005. It is an independent state agency governed by a nine-member citizen board appointed by the Governor. The purpose of the program is to enhance and conserve wildlife habitat and natural resource values throughout the state. Any project designed to improve wildlife habitat or natural resource value is eligible for funding. There are six categories of projects funded by the Wildlife and Natural Resource Trust: invasives, river, wetlands, range, water and conservation easements. Over 500 projects in all 23 counties in the State of Wyoming have been completed. The Wildlife and Natural Resource Trust aims to maintain the special open spaces found in Wyoming and allow future generations of Wyomingites the ability to preserve the legacy of the West.

The Wyoming Women’s Center (WWC) is a full service, secure correctional facility for female felons. It is the sole adult female facility in the State of Wyoming. Established by the Wyoming Legislature it was built in 1984 at a cost of $9 million with a design capacity for 84 inmates. The institution is located on 71 acres of state property. Expansion of the facility was completed in 2007, increasing the capacity to confine 295 inmates. The facility houses all security levels, minimum through maximum. WWC offers programming that addresses the assessed needs of the female felon. These include, but are not limited to, the following: living skills, drug, co-dependency, parenting, assertiveness, anger management and recovery groups dealing with emotional, physical and sexual abuse. The WWC also has a self-contained 54-bed intensive treatment unit (ITU) for the treatment of addiction. The ITU is a highly structured long term program based upon the therapeutic community treatment model. The program is tailored to provide gender specific services and is funded with a combination of state and federal resources.

Eleven members and eleven associate members are appointed by the Governor from recommendations by the Wyoming Medical Society and other health care provider groups. The statutory responsibilities of the Commission are to promulgate rules and regulations establishing treatment parameters; to establish criteria for certification of temporary total disability; to advise the Division, upon request, on the usefulness of medical cost containment measures; and to serve as members of hearing panels in medically contested workers' compensation cases (W.S. 27-14-616). The Commission operates in conjunction with the Department of Workforce Services.

The Workforce Development Council oversees the creation of a strategic plan for the development of Wyoming’s workforce with a vision towards ensuring that Wyoming is a state with a strong and growing economy populated by educated, economically self-sufficient people who enjoy a high quality of life. The Council was established by Governor’s Executive Order 1998-01, reconstituted under Governor’s Executive Order 2013-06 and further reconstituted under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014. The Council operates in conjunction with the Department of Workforce Services. The Council acts as the state and local Workforce Investment Board under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014.
